ABC's of Rotary

Avenues of Service

The term Avenues of Service refers to the four parts of the Object of Rotary: Club Service, Vocational Service, Community Service, and International Service.

Although the Avenues of Service are not listed in the constitutional documents of Rotary, many Rotarians use this concept to describe the primary areas of Rotary activity.

Club Service involves all of the necessary activities Rotarians perform to make their club function successfully.

Vocational Service describes the opportunity each Rotarian has to represent the dignity and value of his or her vocation to the other members of the club, as well as the responsibility of the club to undertake projects related to such areas as career planning, vocational training, and the promotion of high ethical standards in the workplace.

Community Service pertains to those activities that Rotarians undertake to improve the quality of life in their community. It frequently involves assistance to youth, the aged, the disabled, and others who look to Rotary as a source of hope for a better life.

International Service describes the many programs and activities that Rotarians undertake to advance international understanding, goodwill, and peace. Many international service projects are designed to meet humanitarian needs in the developing world or to support relief and recovery efforts in the wake of a disaster.

When a Rotarian understands and travels down the four Avenues of Service, the Object of Rotary takes on an even greater meaning.
